

Technology Inspired by Real People

NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT 2019 (SECTION 889)

NDA Summary

The John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) for Fiscal Year 2019 was signed into law on August 13, 2018. The law, specifically Section 889, amongst other things prohibits federal agencies, their contractors and grant or loan recipients from procuring or using “telecommunications and video surveillance equipment or services” from specific Chinese companies as a “substantial or essential component of any system, or as critical technology as part of any system.” The NDAA ban includes telecommunications equipment produced by Huawei Technologies Company or ZTE Corporation, as well as video surveillance and telecommunications equipment produced by Hytera Communications Corporation, Hangzhou Hikvision Digital Technology Company, or Dahua Technology Company; and their affiliated entities.

Azulle’s Product Portfolio Fully NDAA-Compliant

Azulle is pleased to Affirm that all of the products we offer to the US government and to US government contractors and grant recipients are NDAA 2019 compliant. Specifically, none of our products contain components from any of the companies highlighted in Section 889. Our products are well suited for SMB, enterprise, and critical applications where compliance is essential, such as government, utilities, commercial, campuses, and retail.

For more information on procurement or contract assurances, including a declaration of the NDAA compliance letter required for a proposal, please contact info@azulletech.com

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Alex Rodriguez", with a long, sweeping underline.

Alex Rodriguez

Director of Product Development